ABOUT CHELSEA

Chelsea is an award-winning construction CEO, bestselling author, and keynote speaker known for bold storytelling, relatable humor, and practical insight.

She built American GPR & Coring with zero business degree or training, without investors or a roadmap to follow. Her lessons come from leading a real company, earning trust, navigating uncertainty, and finding a way forward through adversity.

KEYNOTE

BUILT FROM THE MESS: THE COURAGE TO BE SEEN

Hard seasons can make even capable, accomplished people question themselves, lose sight of who they are, or wait until they feel completely ready to move forward.

Through honest storytelling and relatable humor, Chelsea shares how some of the most difficult chapters of her life forced her to stop hiding, ask for help, and find her way back to herself. She challenges audiences to stop waiting for permission, use their voice, and take courageous action before confidence fully arrives—turning adversity into greater connection, purpose, and momentum.

AUDIENCES WILL LEAVE READY TO:

- Take action before feeling completely ready
- Reconnect with who you are after hard seasons
- Stop letting fear and past experiences keep you small
- Use your voice and move forward with courage

"VERY ENGAGING AND MOTIVATING!

WOULD DEFINITELY RECOMMEND CHELSEA FOR FUTURE EVENTS."
